Towel & Basin Awards/Service Recognitions

Towel & Basin announced today a new series of awards and service recognitions to be given to honorees in recognition for their service and roles in mission activity. David Best, President and Co-founder of Towel & Basin made the announcement. The Reverend Best noted that as the organization moves toward its twentieth year of service it is only fitting to acknowledge those rendering great service to the kingdom of God.

The awards are as follows:

Servant Leader Award -- Scott Stearman's "Towel and Basin" rendered in casting stone, with walnut base

This award is a means to recognize partners who have contributed significantly, either financial or time, to Towel & Basin's mission. The award shall be made whenever warranted by recommendation of Executive Director and designation by Board of Directors.

Life-Time Member of the Order of the Towel & Basin

The second award is to recognize an individual or organization that consistently demonstrates excellence in service. The candidate's lifestyle exemplifies what it means to combine success with significance through service.

This recipient may not be directly affiliated with Towel & Basin's programs, but models those characteristics and attributes Towel & Basin strives to develop in people and organizations.

Cecil R. Paul Award -- Scott Stearman's "Towel and Basin" rendered in bronze, with walnut base

This award will be made to an individual with high scholastic achievement in his/her chosen academic discipline and has integrated this commitment to scholarship with equally substantial service to the community.

The award will be presented in a public ceremony designed to nurture and encourage other scholars' service beyond the academy's library, laboratory or classroom.
